EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

In 2014, 47 Delaware nursing homes operated a total of 4,960 licensed beds across the state. Forty-four of these facilities were private nursing homes, accounting for 92 percent of all licensed nursing home beds in Delaware. Delaware's three publicly-operated nursing home facilities (Emily P. Bissell Hospital, Governor Bacon Health Center, and the Delaware Hospital for the Chronically Ill) accounted for the remaining 8 percent of statewide nursing home beds.

Since 2004, overall occupancy rates for private nursing homes in all three Delaware counties have hovered near 90 percent. The annual number of admissions to private Delaware nursing homes has steadily increased since 2004; however, increases in the number of admitted patients have been most dramatic in Kent and Sussex Counties. From 2004-2014, the annual number of admissions to private nursing homes in Kent and Sussex Counties increased 179.3 percent and 99.1 percent, respectively. Over the same time period, the annual number of admissions to private nursing homes in New Castle County increased 25.5 percent. While private nursing home admissions have steadily increased across all three counties, annual admissions to public nursing homes in Delaware have been more erratic. Since 2004, public nursing homes in Delaware have experienced substantial fluctuations in the number of patients admitted each year.

In 2014, a total of 12,575 patients were admitted to Delaware nursing homes. Of this total, white patients accounted for nearly 82 percent of all admissions. Black patients and patients of other races accounted for 16.6 percent and 1.6 percent of 2014 nursing home admissions, respectively. Compared to their white counterparts, black patients and patients of other races admitted to Delaware nursing homes are younger on average. Similar demographic trends are observed for discharges from Delaware nursing homes.

Payment source varies by facility type. The overwhelming majority (83.4 percent) of patients in public Delaware nursing homes used Medicaid as a source of payment in 2014; among patients in private nursing homes, 57 percent used Medicaid. Although the percentage of private nursing home patients using Medicare has increased slowly since 2004, Medicare is still not a major payer of nursing home care in Delaware. In 2014, 19.0 percent of private nursing home patients and 0.5 percent of public nursing home patients used Medicare as their source of payment.

The growing size and the changing demographics of Delaware's population are central to the understanding of the distribution of nursing homes, the number of licensed nursing home beds, and their utilization. Between 2010 and 2040, Delaware's total population is expected to increase 19.4 percent. Projected population growth is much more dramatic among older Delawareans. From 2010 to 2040, the statewide population of Delawareans age 65 and older is expected to increase 98.7 percent (nearly doubling from 130,134 to 258,540).

I. INTRODUCTION

This, the 28th edition of the Delaware Nursing Home Utilization Statistical Report, summarizes 2014 data submitted by Delaware nursing homes[1]. On a monthly basis, from January through December 2014, Delaware nursing homes submitted utilization data to the Delaware Health Care Commission (DHCC). To accomplish this, the DHCC contacted facilities on the first day of each month via e-mail; follow-up contact was made via fax and phone if a facility's monthly data submission was delayed. Upon initial data submission, the DHCC converted the data to an electronic format and reviewed each facility's report for internal inconsistencies and unexpected changes in reported statistics. Any discrepancies were immediately communicated back to the facility with a request for updated data. After receipt of updated data, that facility's report was considered complete for the month. At the end of the reporting year, the DHCC recoded and tabulated data to yield annual totals by facility.

This report presents Delaware nursing home data in two sections. The Facility Characteristics section highlights trend data from 2004 through 2014. The majority of data presented in this section are aggregated to the state- and county-level, and primarily focus on indicators of utilization and patient demographics. The Tables section presents detailed facility-level measures, including total patient days, occupancy rates, percentage of patients by source of payment, and annual admission and discharge totals. Note that percentages in any given data category may not sum to 100 percent due to numerical rounding. Refer to Appendix A for changes in facilities' names and/or number of licensed beds that occurred in 2014.

[1] Excluded from this report are facilities that serve individuals under the age of 18 as well as Intermediate Care Facilities for Individuals with Intellectual Developmental Disabilities (ICF/IID). ICF/IID facilities provide active and comprehensive and individualized treatment and rehabilitation services to promote functional status and independence.

STATEWIDE POPULATION PROJECTIONS

The growing size and the changing demographics of Delaware's population are central to the understanding of the distribution of nursing homes, the number of licensed nursing home beds, and their utilization. The following two charts, derived from Delaware Population Consortium data, provide the context within which to evaluate the availability of facilities for the elderly. Chart 1 shows the projected increase of Delaware's total population from 2010 to 2040. Chart 2 shows the projected population increase over the same time period specifically among Delawareans age 65 and older.

Between 2010 and 2040, Delaware's total population is expected to increase 19.4 percent. Overall population growth is distributed unevenly across Delaware's counties; from 2010-2040, Kent and Sussex Counties are expected to experience a 28.1 percent and 30.8 percent increase in total population, respectively. Total population growth for New Castle County is estimated at 12.7 percent over the same time period. Projected population growth is much more dramatic among older Delawareans. From 2010 to 2040, the statewide population of Delawareans age 65 and older is expected to increase 98.7 percent (nearly doubling from 130,134 to 258,540). Among this subpopulation, cohorts of the oldest Delawareans are expected to increase most rapidly in size. Between 2010 and 2040, statewide percentages of residents age 75-79, 80-84, and 85+ are projected to increase 120.6 percent, 143.8 percent, and 203.2 percent, respectively.

II. FACILITY CHARACTERISTICS

NUMBER OF NURSING HOME BEDS

In 2014, 47 Delaware nursing homes operated a total of 4,960 licensed beds. The majority of Delaware nursing homes – 44 out of 47 – were privately owned and operated in 2014. Privately-owned licensed beds accounted for 92.5 percent of all licensed nursing home beds in Delaware. Delaware's three publicly-operated nursing home facilities (Emily P. Bissell Hospital, Governor Bacon Health Center, and the Delaware Hospital for the Chronically Ill) accounted for the remaining 7.5 percent of statewide nursing home beds.

The map on the following page shows the geographic location of Delaware nursing homes. Each circular symbol represents one nursing home. The size of the circular symbol corresponds to the number of licensed beds at that facility. New Castle County is home to 27 private nursing homes and two public nursing homes. Kent County houses six private nursing homes and one public nursing home. The remaining 11 private nursing homes are located in Sussex County.

UTILIZATION

generated by a facility over a given time period. A billable patient day represents a unit of time (i.e., one day) during which the facility's services are used by one patient. For example, if a nursing home has 100 patients on a particular day, the facility has generated 100 billable patient days for that particular 24-hour period. If a facility's number of billable patient days increases from one time period to the next, it is an indication that the facility is caring for more patients, caring for patients for longer periods of time, or a combination of these two factors. Mathematically, billable patient days per facility per year are calculated by summing each facility's monthly billable patient days over a 12-month period.

Long-term trends reveal sizeable shifts in the number of patient days by county and facility type. From 2004-2014, New Castle County and Sussex County private nursing homes experienced a 6.7 percent and 9.7 percent increase in billable patient days, respectively. During the same time period, private nursing homes in Kent County experienced a substantially larger 26.4 percent increase in billable patient days. From 2004 to 2014, billable patient days among Delaware's public nursing homes declined 33.8 percent.

OCCUPANCY

Occupancy rates are helpful for putting facilities' utilization data within the context of available resources. A facility's occupancy rate reflects the percentage of available beds occupied by patients throughout the reporting year. Occupancy rates are weighted based on the number of days a facility was open during the reporting year. Mathematically, for facilities that were open 365 days of the reporting year, Weighted Occupancy Rate = [(Number of Billable Patient Days) /(Number of Licensed Bed Days)] * 100% where (Number of Licensed Bed Days) equals the number of licensed beds in a facility (as of December of the reporting year) multiplied by 365. If a facility was open fewer than 365 days of the reporting year, the same weighted occupancy formula is used with the exception that (Number of Licensed Bed Days) equals the number of licensed beds multiplied by the actual number of days the facility was open.

Since 2004, overall occupancy rates for private facilities in all three counties have hovered near 90 percent. Over the past 10 years, Delaware's public nursing homes have operated at 64 percent occupancy or less. From 2004 to 2014, the overall occupancy rate for private facilities fluctuated only slightly (ranging from a 1.5 percent decline in Sussex County to a 3.1 percent decline in New Castle County). During the same time period, occupancy rates in Delaware's three public facilities increased 8.5 percent; however, this reflects a reduction in licensed public nursing home beds rather than an increase in admissions to public nursing homes (see Table 4 for additional details).

ADMISSIONS

The annual number of admissions to private Delaware nursing homes has steadily increased since 2004; however, increases in the number of admitted patients have been most dramatic in Kent and Sussex Counties. From 2004-2014, the annual number of admissions to private nursing homes in Kent and Sussex Counties increased 179.3 percent and 99.1 percent, respectively. Over the same time period, the annual number of admissions to private nursing homes in New Castle County increased 25.5 percent. While private nursing home admissions have steadily increased across all three counties, annual admissions to public nursing homes in Delaware have been more erratic. Since 2004, public nursing homes in Delaware have experienced substantial fluctuations in the number of patients admitted each year. Considering the most recent 11 years' worth of data, the peak number of public nursing home admissions occurred in 2006 when 156 patients were admitted to Delaware's three public nursing homes. In 2014, this number fell to just 50 patients. Compared to 2004, 26.5 percent fewer patients were admitted to Delaware public nursing homes in 2014.

As shown in Table 5, white patients accounted for nearly 82 percent of all Delaware nursing home admissions in 2014. Black patients and patients of other races accounted for 16.6 percent and 1.6 percent of 2014 nursing home admissions, respectively. When considering admissions by age, individuals 75-84 years and 85 years and over accounted for 32.9 percent and 31.5 percent, respectively, of all 2014 Delaware nursing home admissions. Just over one-fifth (21.6 percent) of 2014 nursing home admissions were individuals ages 65-74. The youngest category of nursing home patients – those under age 65 – accounted for the remaining 14.0 percent of 2014 admissions.

Table 5: Percentage of Total Delaware Nursing Home Admissions, by Race and Age, 2014

	Age Groups
	Under 65	65-74	75-84	85+	Total Admissions (by Race)
White Admissions	11.6%	20.3%	33.8%	34.2%	81.8%

Total Admissions (by Age)	14.0%	21.6%	32.9%	31.5%	100.0%

Although black patients and patients of other races comprised just 18 percent of all 2014 nursing home admissions combined, they represent an overall younger population compared to their white counterparts. As shown in Figure 2, in 2014, fewer than 12 percent of all white nursing home admissions were individuals under the age of 65. Relative to this, individuals under the age of 65 accounted for 25.0 percent and 21.9 percent of black admissions and admissions of other races, respectively. Among black patients admitted to Delaware nursing homes in 2014, nearly 53 percent were individuals age 74 and under; in comparison, 32 percent of all white admissions represented individuals under the age of 74. In summary, while white patients accounted for substantially more nursing home admissions overall, black patients and patients of other races tended to be younger when they admitted to Delaware nursing homes.

DISCHARGES

In 2014, Delaware nursing homes discharged a total of 12,130 patients. Since 2004, the annual number of discharges from private Delaware nursing homes has substantially increased across all three counties. From 2004-2014, Kent and Sussex Counties experienced the greatest increase in the number of annual private nursing home discharges (171.3 percent and 90.8 percent, respectively). Private nursing home discharges increased 21.6 percent in New Castle County over the same time period. Compared to 2004, Delaware's public nursing homes experienced a 21.9 percent decline in the number of annual discharges; however, this decline in the number of discharges mirrors a similar decline in the number of annual admissions among Delaware's public nursing homes.

As in previous years, in 2014, discharge destination varied greatly by facility type (Table 7). Patients discharged from private facilities were far more likely to return home compared to patients discharged from public facilities (61.5 percent vs. 12.0 percent, respectively). Sixty percent of patients discharged from public nursing home facilities represented discharges due to death. Among discharges from private nursing homes, just fewer than 10 percent represented discharges due to death.

As shown in Table 8, 2014 discharge statistics mirror admission statistics in terms of patient race and age. White patients accounted for 81.8 percent of all Delaware nursing home discharges in 2014. Black patients and patients of other races accounted for 16.7 percent and 1.5 percent of 2014 nursing home discharges, respectively. When considering discharges by age category, individuals 75-84 years and 85 years and over accounted for 32.5 percent and 32.9 percent, respectively, of all Delaware nursing home discharges. Just over one-fifth (20.4 percent) of 2014 nursing home discharges were individuals ages 65-74. The youngest category of nursing home patients – those under age 65 – accounted for the remaining 14.3 percent of 2014 discharges.

The age breakdown among white, black, and other race patients discharged from Delaware nursing homes in 2014 is similar to that among nursing home admissions. Black patients and patients of other races discharged from Delaware nursing homes represent and overall younger population. Approximately 27 percent of black patients and 21 percent of patients of other races discharged from nursing homes were under the age of 65, whereas only 11.6 percent of white patients discharged from Delaware nursing homes fell into this youngest age category. In 2014, nearly 51 percent of black patients discharged from Delaware nursing homes were under the age of 75; in comparison, 31.2 percent of white patients discharged from Delaware nursing homes were under the age of 75. In summary, while white patients accounted for substantially more nursing home discharges overall, black patients and patients of other races discharged from Delaware nursing homes represent a younger population in general.

SOURCE OF PAYMENT

Patient payment for nursing home care varies by type of facility. In 2014, the overwhelming majority (83.4 percent) of patients in public Delaware nursing homes used Medicaid as a source of payment; among patients at private Delaware nursing homes, 57 percent paid via Medicaid. Although the percentage of private nursing home patients using Medicare has increased slowly since 2004, Medicare is still not a major payer of nursing home care in Delaware. In 2014, 19.0 percent and 0.5 percent of patients in private and public nursing homes, respectively, used Medicare as their source of payment. Just under one-fifth (19.0 percent) of private nursing home patients self-paid for their care, compared to 10.9 percent of public nursing home patients. Approximately 5 percent of patients in both public and private nursing homes used a different source of payment for their care.

Weighted occupancy rates for individual facilities are calculated as the ratio of Billable Patient Days and Licensed Bed Days. Licensed Bed Days are calculated as (Number of Licensed beds (as of December of the reporting year))*(Total days the facility was open during the reporting year). Weighted occupancy rates at county, facility type, and state levels are calculated as the ratio of Billable Patient Days (sum of each facility in the category) and Licensed Bed Days (sum of each facility in the category).
